CNR SLEEPER TRAINS

These Chinese CNR sleeper trains are currently in operation on four different routes throughout Thailand. They all depart from Bangkok's Krung Thep Aphiwat Station (KTH).

OUTBOUND TRAINS:

NO.	TRAIN	ROUTE	TIME	DURATION	LINE
9	SP EXP	KTH - Chiang Mai	18:40 - 07:15	12hr 35min	N
23	SP EXP	KTH - Ubon Ratchathani	21:05 - 06:35	9hr 30min	NE
25	SP EXP	KTH - Nong Khai	20:25 - 06:25	10hr 0min	NE
31	SP EXP	KTH - Hat Yai Junction	16:50 - 07:05	14hr 15min	S

INBOUND TRAINS:

NO.	TRAIN	ROUTE	TIME	DURATION	LINE
10	SP EXP	Chiang Mai - KTH	18:00 - 06:50	12hr 50min	N
24	SP EXP	Ubon Ratchathani - KTH	19:00 - 04:50	9hr 50min	NE

32	SP EXP	Hat Yai Junction - KTH	17:45 - 08:10	14hr 25min	S

Each train is made up of thirteen carriages:

- One power van
- Nine air-conditioned 2nd Class sleeper coaches
- One air-conditioned 2nd Class sleeper coach with handicap facilities
- One air-conditioned restaurant car
- One air-conditioned 1st Class sleeper coach

Tickets can be bought 180 days in advance as long as the journey is at least 60% of the full route. If it is less than that, and at least 25% of the route, you can only buy up to 30 days in advance.

SLEEPER TRAINS

These are all the night trains in Thailand that operate in and out of Bangkok on the three main lines. The trains in bold are the newer CNR sleeper trains. Unless otherwise noted, seated 2nd and 3rd Class carriages only have fans and open windows. The trains with freight cars can also transport your bicycles or motorcycles.

NORTHERN LINE NIGHT TRAINS: If you don't mind spending the night in a seat with fans, then trains No. 13/14 and No. 51/52 are an alternative way to reach Chiang Mai at short notice when all the sleeper berths are full.

NORTHERN LINE MAP

NORTHERN LINE TRAINS

TRAINS TO CHIANG MAI

The Northern Line connects Bangkok with Chiang Mai via five long-distance trains. The fastest day train is Special Express No. 7/8, a diesel railcar (DRC) that can complete the journey in just over ten hours. The most popular sleeper train is Special Express No. 9/10, which is one of the modern CNR sleepers. All of these trains depart from Krung Thep Aphiwat Station (KTW).

NORTHERN LINE TRAINS

LONG-DISTANCE TRAINS ON THE NORTHERN LINE WITH 3RD CLASS SEATS

The following long-distance trains out of Bangkok's Krung Thep Aphiwat Station have 2nd and 3rd Class carriages with seats and fans which you can use to supplement the local trains. However, as they are express trains, they won't stop at small stations, and they will be more expensive than the local trains. But they might help you make some fast daytime moves. If you are going less than 25% of the complete route, you can only buy these tickets on the day.

NORTHBOUND: Trains to Den Chai and Chiang Mai

No.	TRAIN	ROUTE	TIME	DURATION
111	RAPID	KTW - Den Chai	07:30 - 16:30	9hr 0min

108	RAPID	Den Chai - KTW	19:05 - 04:30	9hr 25min

Out of all these trains, the daytime Rapid No. 111/112, both northbound and southbound, and Rapid No. 109/102 southbound, are probably the best long-distance trains for making some moves during the day. Incidentally, the sleeper carriages on No. 109 are added to No. 52 for the daytime return journey from Chiang Mai.

NORTHERN LINE TRAINS

BANGKOK TRAINS: LOWER NORTHERN LINE

From Bangkok (Hua Lamphong) Station, there are eight trains going to destinations along the lower Northern Line. Please note, the No. 317/318 diesel railcars do not run on weekends and on public holidays.

NORTHERN LINE TRAINS

LOCAL TRAINS: UPPER NORTHERN LINE

The Northern Line offers four pairs of local diesel railcars (DRCs) that don't begin or end their routes in Bangkok. These trains provide convenient access to smaller stations and halts that Rapid, Express, and Special Express trains skip. Please note: Tickets for 3rd class carriages on these local trains must be purchased at the station on the day of travel. You cannot buy tickets for these local trains online.

NORTHERN LINE TRAINS

SAWANKHALOK BRANCH LINE

Sawankhalok Station in Sukhothai Province is at the end of a branch line that starts from Ban Dara Junction. There used to be a night train from Bangkok, but these days there is only this one local train that starts at Sila At station. Tickets cost 13 Baht if you do the entire route from Sila At.

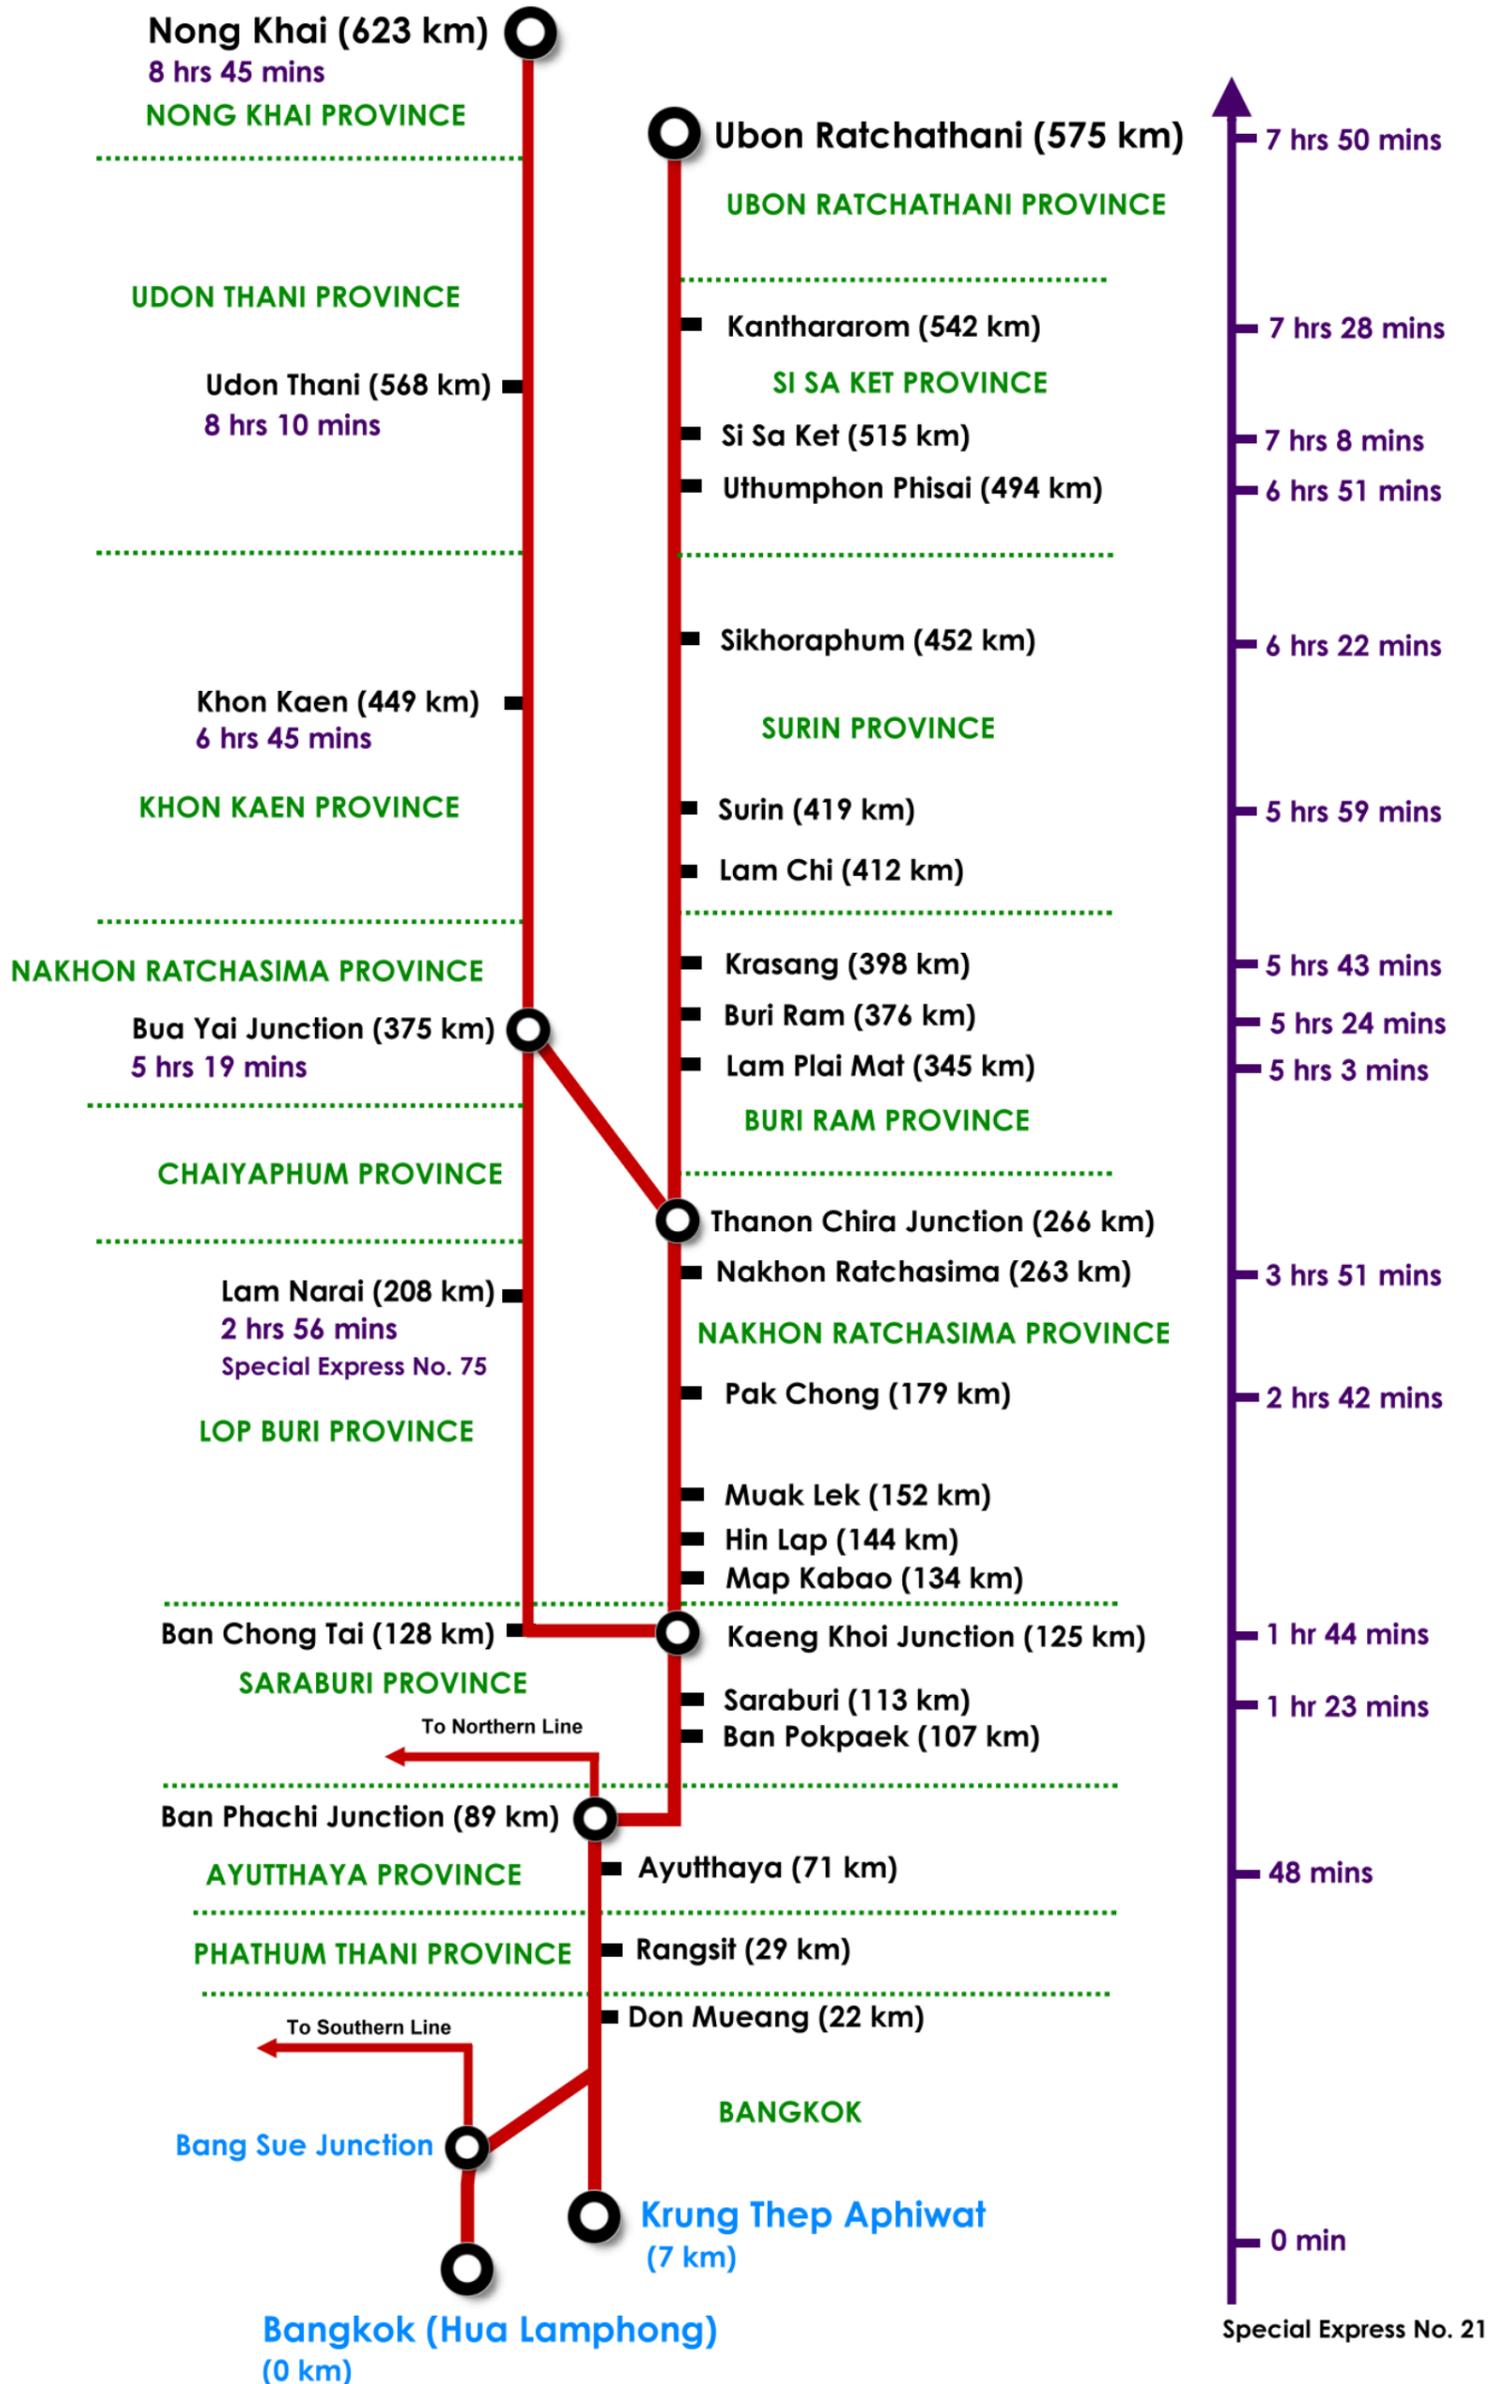

No.	TRAIN	ROUTE	TIME	DURATION
405	LOCAL	Sila At – Sawankhalok	10:00 - 11:00	1hr 0min
406	LOCAL	Sawankhalok - Sila At	13:00 – 14:05	1hr 5min

The train stays at Sawankhalok for two hours before making the return trip. There is local transport in front of the station. They can give you a tour of the area. If you want to stay longer, there are hotels within walking distance of the station. It is possible to take local transport from here to Si Satchanalai Historical Park.

There are a number of giant street art pieces a few minutes' walk from the station. Take the road opposite the station and then turn right.

NORTHEASTERN LINE MAP

NORTHEASTERN LINE TRAINS

UBON RATCHATHANI

There are six long-distance trains operating on the main Northeastern Line connecting Bangkok to Ubon Ratchathani. All of these trains depart from Krung Thep Aphiwat Station (KTW). For the fastest journey, consider daytime Special Express No. 21/22. This diesel railcar (DRC) offers air-conditioning and reclining seats. If you prefer a sleeper train, Special Express No. 23 is a popular choice, featuring modern CNR carriages. Rapid No. 139 provides an additional sleeper train alternative. These trains also stop in Nakhon Ratchasima, Buriram, Surin, and Sisaket.

BANGKOK TO VIENTIANE - INTERNATIONAL TRAIN

In July 2024, Rapid No. 133 extended its service by crossing the border from Nong Khai to the new Vientiane (Khamsavath) Station. The international train departs from Krung Thep Aphiwat Station (KTW) at 9:25 p.m. This train used to only have 2nd and 3rd Class carriages with fans, but they have now been upgraded with 2nd Class sleepers and 2nd Class seats with air conditioning. Prices start at 281 baht for 3rd Class with fan to 784/874 baht for the sleeper berths. The train stops at Nong Khai Station in the morning for passengers to pass through Immigration and then continues across the Friendship Bridge to Vientiane (Khamsavath) Station, where Laos immigration is done. From the station, there are shuttle buses to the city center and the high-speed railway station. The return service is Rapid No. 134 in the evening.

BUA YAI BYPASS

To relieve the bottleneck in Nakhon Ratchasima, a rail bypass was built between Kaeng Khoi and Bua Yai junctions. This bypass is used by trains from Bangkok heading to Nong Khai, and the highlight is the five viaducts crossing the Pasak Chonlasit Reservoir. Unfortunately, only Express No. 75/76 and the three pairs of local trains pass through this route during daylight hours.

BAN LAEM TO MAEKLONG LINE

The Maeklong Line is actually two lines, as there is no railway bridge over the Tha Chin River in Samut Sakhon. You have to take a ferry across the river to the other side, where you catch a train from Ban Laem to Maeklong in Samut Songkhram. This is where the famous Market on the Railway tracks is located. I recommend that you catch train No. 4383 at 10:10 a.m.

THON BURI TO NAKHON PATHOM STATIONS

SRT has set up these feeder trains to help commuters living on the outskirts of Bangkok to go into the city for work and pleasure. Charan Sanitwong Station is next to MRT Bang Khun Non Station (on the Blue Line) and Taling Chan Junction connects to the Red Line.

SUPHANBURI

The Suphanburi branch line was originally intended to serve as a bypass for Southern Line trains, allowing them to avoid Bangkok by providing a direct connection to Lop Buri on the Northern Line. Unfortunately, the project was completed only up to Suphanburi due to funding constraints. Trains currently operate to Suphanburi only once a week, departing on Sundays and returning on Mondays. On other days, the train runs only as far as Nong Pla Duk.

THE DEATH RAILWAY

Apart from the weekend excursion train, No. 909/910, all trains along the Death Railway to Kanchanaburi start from Thon Buri Station. The official starting point of the Death Railway is at Nong Pla Duk Junction.

The views from Bangkok to Kanchanaburi Station are average. The real highlights come when the train crosses the River Kwai Bridge and passes over the wooden trestle bridge at Tham Krasae Halt. If you're staying in Kanchanaburi, I recommend taking No. 485 from the bridge to Tham Krasae and exploring the area while waiting for No. 257 to Nam Tok. You'll have three hours to visit the waterfall and Hellfire Pass before coming back on No. 486. You can only buy these tickets at the station. They cost 100 baht regardless of length of journey.

KHIRI RAT NIKHOM BRANCH LINE

For those attempting the All the Lines Challenge, this is one of the more difficult lines to complete. There is only one train per day from Surat Thani, which arrives in the evening. The return journey is made in the morning. A small motel called Leelawadee Resort is about a 15-minute walk away, but there are no motorcycle taxis available. The best option is to take an early morning taxi from Surat Thani Station to Khiri Ratnikhom Station and return by train. This will cost around 800 baht.

SHUTTLE TRAINS TO PADANG BESAR IN MALAYSIA

Shuttle trains that cross the border between Thailand and Malaysia only have 3rd Class carriages and tickets can only be purchased on the day for 50 Baht. Additionally, Special Express No. 45, a sleeper train from Bangkok, also crosses the border into Malaysia. At Hat Yai Junction, a 3rd Class carriage is added to this train for local passengers to cross the border. Currently, it terminates at Padang Besar Station, but there are plans to extend the route to Butterworth Station. Immigration for both Thailand and Malaysia is conducted at Padang Besar Station on the Malaysian side of the border. Here, you can purchase tickets to Butterworth or further south to Kuala Lumpur.
