THAI TRAIN GUIDE

THE EASTERN LINE 2025

TRAIN GUIDE SPONSORED BY 12GO

INTRODUCTION

This is a guidebook for the Eastern Line from Bangkok to Ban Klong Luk and from Bangkok to Chuk Samet. Both of these lines start their journey at Bangkok Station (Hua Lamphong) and travel to Chachoengsao Junction, where they diverge.

Traveling by train in Thailand is an experience of immersion, where you watch landscapes change, savor local flavors, and witness the rich diversity that makes this country so special.

I hope this guidebook inspires you to take a train ride on the eastern line and discover more of Thailand for yourself. Please send feedback about this e-book and any ideas that you may have for future train guides to richard@thaitrainguide.com.

THAILAND'S EASTERN LINE

The Eastern Line is part of Thailand's State Railway network, originating at Bangkok Station (Hua Lamphong) and extending eastwards to Chachoengsao. This initial section opened on 24th January 1907 and marked the beginning of railway expansion towards Thailand's eastern provinces. In the 1920s, the line extended further: first reaching Kabin Buri in January 1926, and then Aranyaprathet in November 1926.

Chachoengsao became a key junction in July 1989 with the opening of a line to Sattahip Commercial Port, enhancing both passenger and cargo connectivity. Initially, passenger services terminated at Ban Phlu Ta Luang, but in November 2023, they were extended to Chuk Samet Station.

BANGKOK TO BAN KLONG LUK

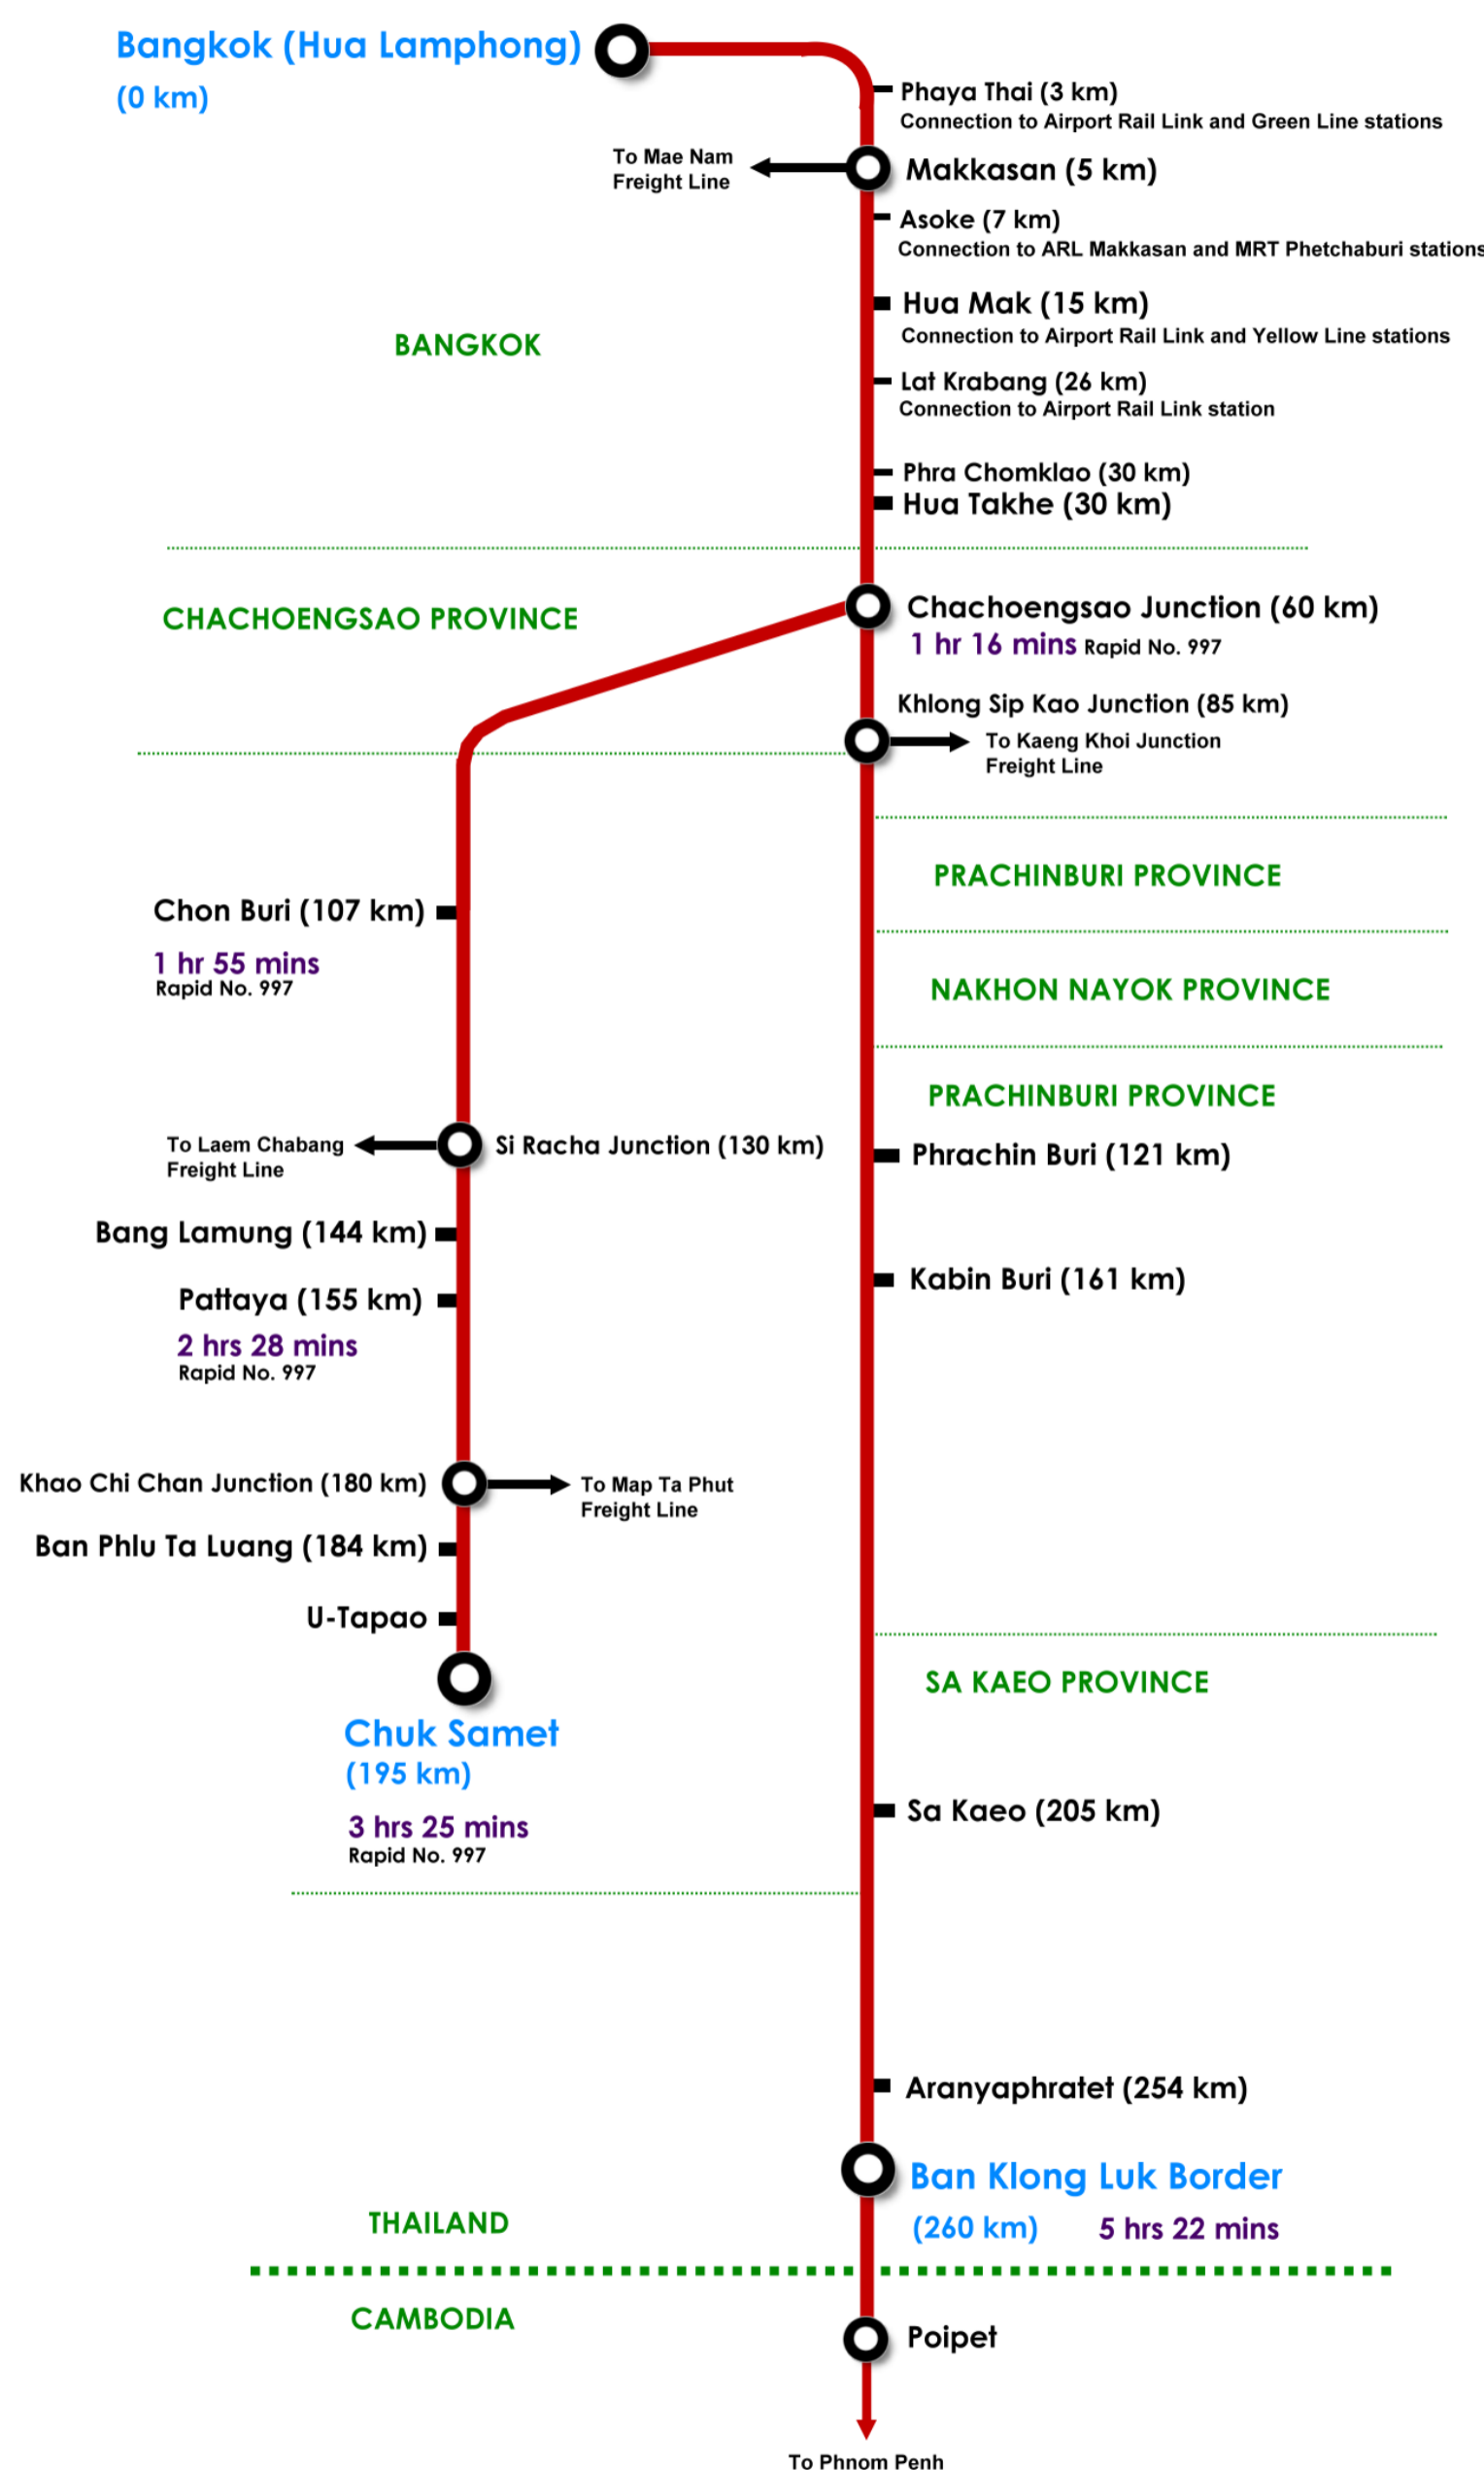

The journey from Bangkok to Ban Klong Luk begins by passing through the urban expanse of Bangkok, transitioning into the surrounding countryside. As you leave the city behind, the landscape opens up to reveal the fertile central plains. The area around Chachoengsao is characterized by lush green rice paddies, similar to what you might see on the northern line. The vibrant green fields stretch far into the distance, showcasing the abundance of agriculture in this region. Chachoengsao, known for its orchards, also produces a variety of fruits like mangoes, coconuts, and bananas, adding to the scenery's rich diversity.

Moving onward towards Ban Klong Luk, which sits near the border with Cambodia, the landscape starts to change subtly. The fields are punctuated by sugarcane plantations and patches of cassava, two major crops of this area. In many places, you can also spot rubber plantations, reflecting the agricultural shift as you head east. The closer you get to the Cambodian border, the more the influence of Khmer culture becomes evident. This is reflected not only in the language spoken by some of the local people but also in the architecture of small rural temples along the route.

THE EASTERN LINE HAS TWO MAIN LINES:

- Aranyaprathet Main Line: Extends from Bangkok to Aranyaprathet District in Sa Kaeo Province. The terminal station on the Thai side is Ban Klong Luk Border Station. On the Cambodian side, it is Poipet Station.
- Sattahip Main Line: Stretches from Bangkok to Sattahip District in Chonburi Province. The terminal station is Chuk Samet Station.

MAKKASAN DEPARTURE BOARD

Makkasan Station, located five kilometres from Bangkok Station, is a great spot for train spotting as all Eastern Line trains stop here. Freight trains that are heading to or coming from Mae Nam Station branch off from this station. Additionally, there is a bustling market on the station grounds, and some vendors even travel here by train from Kabin Buri, Prachin Buri, and Chachoengsao on the early morning trains.

CHACHOENGSAO DEPARTURE BOARD

Chachoengsao Junction Station, 60 kilometres from Bangkok Station, is a good location to do some train spotting as all Eastern Line trains stop here. There are also many freight trains going between Laem Chabang Port and the Inland Container Depot at Lat Krabang. Some also go the other direction to the Northeastern Line via the Kaeng Khoi shortcut at Klong Sip Kao Junction.

CHACHOENGSAO LINE TRAINS

CHACHOENGSAO JUNCTION

The following trains only go to Chachoengsao Junction from Bangkok. On weekdays, they are mainly used by commuters going to work in Bangkok. The green carriages on these trains don't have any toilets. However, the regular carriages at each end of the train do have toilets.

At Chachoengsao Junction, the main line continues to the Thai-Cambodian border through the provinces of Nakhon Nayok, Saraburi, Prachinburi, and Sa Kaeo. The other line goes down to Chonburi Province.
